(4) If application is duly made within the time stated in the notice, the Commission shall notify the Prime Minister in writing of that application and thereupon the Prime Minister shall appoint an Appeals Board consisting of—

- (a) one member, who shall not be a member of the Commission, selected by the Prime Minister;
- (b) one member selected by an association representative of public officers or by a professional body, nominated in either case by the applicant; and

(ii) where some other disciplinary action has been taken in relation to the officer the Board may direct that there shall be adopted with respect to the calculation of any pensions benefits that, under any law, may be granted in respect of his service as a public officer such measures as the Board may specify in order to off-set all or any part of the reduction in the amount of such benefits that, in the opinion of the Board, would or might otherwise be a consequence of the disciplinary action,

Compulsory retirement to facilitate appointment of local candidates.

14. (1) If the Prime Minister so requests, the authorities having power to make appointments in any branch of the public service shall consider and report to the Prime Minister whether there are more candidates belonging to Kenya (hereinafter referred to as "local candidates") who are suitably qualified for appointment to, or promotion in, that branch than there are vacancies in that branch that could appropriately be filled by such local candidates; if those authorities report to the Prime Minister that such is the case, the authority having power to remove from office persons holding office in that branch (in this subsection and in subsection (2) of this section referred to as "the nominating authority") shall, if so requested by the Prime Minister, select officers to whom this section applies who are serving in that branch and whose retirement would, in the opinion of the nominating authority, cause vacancies that could appropriately be filled by such suitably qualified local candidates as are available and fit for appointment and inform the Prime Minister of the number of officers so selected; if the Prime Minister specifies a number of officers to be called upon to vacate their appointments (not exceeding the number of officers so selected), the nominating authority shall nominate that number of officers from among the officers so selected and the provisions of subsections (2), (3) and (4) of this section shall apply in the case of any officers so nominated.

(2) The nominating authority shall report the name of the officer to the Chairman of the Public Service Commission who in turn shall circulate that name to the authority having power to make appointments in any branch of the public service in which the officer is eligible for appointment; and each such authority shall then consider whether there is any vacancy to which it is willing to appoint the officer.

(3) If any authority indicates to the Chairman of the Public Service Commission that it is willing to appoint the officer to fill a vacancy the officer shall be so informed and that appointment (which, in the case of a vacancy on the establishment of a Region, shall be an appointment on secondment from the establishment of the Government of Kenya) shall be made, but without prejudice to the right of the officer to retire voluntarily from the public service in the manner provided by any law:

Provided that where more than one authority is willing to appoint the officer to fill a vacancy, the Public Service Commission shall decide which vacancy he shall be appointed to fill.

(4) If no authority is willing to appoint the officer to fill a vacancy, the Chairman of the Public Service Commission shall by notice in writing so inform him and require him to retire from the public service, and he shall retire accordingly.

(5) Any notice given under subsection (4) of this section requiring an officer to retire from the public service shall—

(a) in the case of an officer who, when he receives the notice, is on leave of absence upon the completion of a tour of duty, specify the date on which he shall so retire which shall be not earlier than the expiration of six months from the date when he receives the notice or, if his leave of absence would otherwise expire later, when it would otherwise expire; and

(b) in the case of any other officer, specify the period, which shall be not less than six months from the date when he receives the notice, at the expiration of which he shall proceed upon leave of absence pending retirement:

Provided that the officer may agree to the notice specifying an earlier date or, as the case may be, a shorter period.

(6) In determining the date or the period to be specified in pursuance of subsection (5) of this section in a notice given to any officer, the Chairman of the Public Service Commission shall act in accordance with the advice of the authority that nominated that officer under subsection (1) of this section.

(7) This section applies to any officer who holds a pensionable public office and—

(a) is designated under the Overseas Service Aid Scheme; or

(b) is a member of Her Majesty's Overseas Civil Service or Her Majesty's Overseas Judiciary; or

(c) whose conditions of service include an entitlement to free passages from East Africa for the purpose of leave of absence, other than sabbatical leave, upon the completion of a tour of duty; or

(8) In this section "overseas officer" means an officer in the public service who is, either individually or as a member of a class, declared by the appropriate Commission to be an overseas officer, and "the appropriate Commission" means—the provisions of section 13 of this Order shall apply in relation to that decision as if it were such a decision as is referred to in subsection (1) of the said section 13 and as if any Appeals Board that has been established for that case under the said section 10A had been established under the said section 13.

Fundamental rights and freedoms of the individual.

Whereas every person in Kenya is entitled to the fundamental rights and freedoms of the individual, that is to say, the right, whatever his race, tribe, place of origin or residence or other local connexion, political opinions, colour, creed or sex, but subject to respect for the rights and freedoms of others and for the public interest, to each and all of the following, namely—

- (a) life, liberty, security of the person and the protection of the law;
- (b) freedom of conscience, of expression and of assembly and association; and
- (c) protection for the privacy of his home and other property and from deprivation of property without compensation, the provisions of this Chapter shall have effect for the purpose of affording protection to those rights and freedoms subject to such limitations of that protection as are contained in those provisions, being limitations designed to ensure that the enjoyment of the said rights and freedoms by any individual does not prejudice the rights and freedoms of others or the public interest,

Protection of right to life.

15. (1) No person shall be deprived of his life intentionally save in execution of the sentence of a court in respect of a criminal offence under the law of Kenya of which he has been convicted.

(2) Without prejudice to any liability for a contravention of any other law with respect to the use of force in such cases as are herein-after mentioned, a person shall not be regarded as having been deprived of his life in contravention of this section if he dies as the result of the use of force to such extent as is reasonably justifiable in the circumstances of the case—

- (j) to such extent as may be necessary in the execution of a lawful order requiring that person to remain within a specified area within Kenya or prohibiting him from being within such an area, or to such extent as may be reasonably justifiable for the taking of proceedings against that person relating to the making of any such order, or to such extent as may be reasonably justifiable for restraining that person during any visit that he is permitted to make to any part of Kenya in which, in consequence of any such order, his presence would otherwise be unlawful.

(2) Any person who is arrested or detained shall be informed as soon as reasonably practicable, in a language that he understands, of the reasons for his arrest or detention.

(3) Any person who is arrested or detained—

- (a) for the purpose of bringing him before a court in execution of the order of a court; or

(b) upon reasonable suspicion of his having committed, or being about to commit, a criminal offence, and who is not released, shall be brought before a court as soon as is reasonably practicable, and where he is not brought before a court within twenty-four hours of his arrest or from the commencement of his detention, the burden of proving that the person arrested or detained has been brought before a court as soon as is reasonably practicable shall rest upon any person alleging that the provisions of this subsection have been complied with.

(4) Where any person is brought before a court in execution of the order of a court in any proceedings or upon suspicion of his having committed or being about to commit an offence, he shall not be thereafter further held in custody in connexion with those proceedings or that offence save upon the order of a court.

(5) If any person arrested or detained as mentioned in subsection (3) (b) of this section is not tried within a reasonable time, then, without prejudice to any further proceedings that may be brought against him, he shall be released either unconditionally or upon reasonable conditions, including in particular such conditions as are reasonably necessary to ensure that he appears at a later date for trial or for proceedings preliminary to trial.

(6) Any person who is unlawfully arrested or detained by any other person shall be entitled to compensation therefor from that other person.

forced labour.

17. (1) No person shall be held in slavery or servitude.

- (c) provision is made by a law applicable to that taking of possession or acquisition for the prompt payment of full compensation.

(2) Every person having an interest or right in or over property which is compulsorily taken possession of or whose interest in or right over any property is compulsorily acquired shall have a right of direct access to the Supreme Court for—

Provided that if Parliament so provides in relation to any matter referred to in paragraph (a) of this subsection the right of access shall be by way of appeal (exercisable as of right at the instance of the person having the right or interest in the property) from a tribunal or authority, other than the Supreme Court, having jurisdiction under any law to determine that matter.

(3) The Chief Justice may make rules with respect to the practice and procedure of the Supreme Court or any other tribunal or authority in relation to the jurisdiction conferred on the Supreme Court by subsection (2) of this section or exercisable by the other tribunal or authority for the purposes of that subsection (including rules with respect to the time within which applications or appeals to the Supreme Court or applications to the other tribunal or authority may be brought).

(4) No person who is entitled to compensation under this section shall be prevented from remitting, within a reasonable time after he has received any payment of that compensation, the whole of that payment (free from any deduction, charge or tax made or levied in respect of its remission) to any country of his choice outside Kenya.

and except so far as that provision or, as the case may be, the thing done under the authority thereof is shown not to be reasonably justifiable in a democratic society; or

- (b) to the extent that the law in question makes provision for the taking of possession or acquisition of—
  - (i) enemy property;

- (ii) property of a deceased person, a person of unsound mind or a person who has not attained the age of eighteen years, for the purpose of its administration for the benefit of the persons entitled to the beneficial interest therein;

(7) Nothing contained in or done under the authority of any Act of Parliament shall be held to be inconsistent with or in contravention of this section to the extent that the Act in question makes provision for the compulsory taking possession of any property or the compulsory acquisition of any interest in or right over property where that property, interest or right is vested in a body corporate, established by law for public purposes, in which no moneys have been invested other than moneys provided by Parliament; and nothing contained in or done under the authority of any law made by a Regional Assembly shall be held to be inconsistent with or in contravention of this section to the extent that the law in question makes provision for the compulsory taking possession of any property or the compulsory acquisition of any interest in or right over any property where the property, interest or right is vested in a body corporate, established by law for public purposes, in which no moneys have been invested other than moneys provided by that Regional Assembly.

20. (1) Except with his own consent, no person shall be subjected to the search of his person or his property or the entry by others on his premises.

Protection against arbitrary search
or entry.

(2) Nothing contained in or done under the authority of any law shall be held to be inconsistent with or in contravention of this section to the extent that the law in question makes provision—

- (a) that is reasonably required in the interests of defence, public safety, public order, public morality, public health, town and country planning, the development and utilization of mineral resources, or the development or utilization of any other property in such a manner as to promote the public benefit;
- (b) that is reasonably required for the purpose of promoting the rights or freedoms of other persons;
- (c) that authorizes an officer or agent of the Government of Kenya, or of a Region, or of the East African Common Services Organization, or of a local government authority, or of a body corporate established by law for public purposes, to enter on the premises of any person in order to inspect those premises or anything thereon for the purpose of any tax, rate or due

- (d) that authorizes, for the purpose of enforcing the judgment or order of a court in any civil proceedings, the entry upon any premises by order of a court, and except so far as that provision or, as the case may be, anything done under the authority thereof is shown not to be reasonably justifiable in a democratic society.

Provisions to secure
of law.

21. (1) If any person is charged with a criminal offence, then, unless the charge is withdrawn, the case shall be afforded a fair hearing within a reasonable time by an independent and impartial court established by law.

- (2) Every person who is charged with a criminal offence—

(c) shall be given adequate time and facilities for the preparation of his defence;

(d) shall be permitted to defend himself before the court in person or by a legal representative of his own choice;

(e) shall be afforded facilities to examine in person or by his legal representative the witnesses called by the prosecution before the court and to obtain the attendance and carry out the examination of witnesses to testify on his behalf before the court on the same conditions as those applying to witnesses called by the prosecution; and

(f) shall be permitted to have without payment the assistance of an interpreter if he cannot understand the language used at the trial of the charge, and except with his own consent the trial shall not take place in his absence unless he so conducts himself as to render the continuance of the proceedings in his presence impracticable and the court has ordered him to be removed and the trial to proceed in his absence.

(3) When a person is tried for any criminal offence, the accused person or any person authorized by him in that behalf shall, if he so requires and subject to payment of such reasonable fee as may be prescribed by law, be given within a reasonable time after judgment a copy for the use of the accused person of any record of the proceedings made by or on behalf of the court.

(4) No person shall be held to be guilty of a criminal offence on account of any act or omission that did not, at the time it took place, constitute such an offence, and no penalty shall be imposed for any criminal offence that is severer in degree or description than the maximum penalty that might have been imposed for that offence at the time when it was committed.

(5) No person who shows that he has been tried by a competent court for a criminal offence and either convicted or acquitted shall again be tried for that offence or for any other criminal offence of which he could have been convicted at the trial for that offence, save upon the order of a superior court in the course of appeal or review proceedings relating to the conviction or acquittal.

(6) No person shall be tried for a criminal offence if he shows that he has been pardoned for that offence.

(7) No person who is tried for a criminal offence shall be compelled to give evidence at the trial.

(8) No person shall be convicted of a criminal offence unless that offence is defined, and the penalty therefor is prescribed, in a written law:

Provided that nothing in this subsection shall prevent a court from punishing any person for contempt notwithstanding that the act or omission constituting the contempt is not defined in a written law and the penalty therefor is not so prescribed.

(9) Any court or other adjudicating authority prescribed by law for the determination of the existence or extent of any civil right or obligation shall be established by law and shall be independent and impartial; and where proceedings for such a determination are instituted by any person before such a court or other adjudicating authority, the case shall be given a fair hearing within a reasonable time.

(10) Except with the agreement of all the parties thereto, all proceedings of every court and proceedings for the determination of the existence or extent of any civil right or obligation before any other adjudicating authority, including the announcement of the decision of the court or other authority, shall be held in public.

(11) Nothing in subsection (10) of this section shall prevent the court or other adjudicating authority from excluding from the proceedings persons other than the parties thereto and their legal representatives to such extent as the court or other authority—

(a) may by law be empowered to do and may consider necessary or expedient in circumstances where publicity would prejudice the interests of justice or in interlocutory proceedings or in the interests of public morality, the welfare of persons under the age of eighteen years or the protection of the private lives of persons concerned in the proceedings; or

(b) may by law be empowered or required to do in the interests of defence, public safety or public order.

(12) Nothing contained in or done under the authority of any law shall be held to be inconsistent with or in contravention of—

(a) subsection (2) (a) of this section to the extent that the law in question imposes upon any person charged with a criminal offence the burden of proving particular facts;

(c) subsection (2) (e) of this section to the extent that the law in question imposes conditions that must be satisfied if witnesses called to testify on behalf of an accused person are to be paid their expenses out of public funds; or

(d) subsection (5) of this section to the extent that the law in question authorizes a court to try a member of a disciplined force for a criminal offence notwithstanding any trial and conviction or acquittal of that member under the disciplinary law of that force, so, however, that any court so trying such a member and convicting him shall in sentencing him to any punishment take into account any punishment awarded him under that disciplinary law.

(13) In the case of any person who is held in lawful detention, the provisions of subsection (1), paragraphs (d) and (e) of subsection (2) and subsection (3) of this section shall not apply in relation to his trial for a criminal offence under the law regulating the discipline of persons held in such detention.

(14) Nothing contained in subsection (2) (d) of this section shall be construed as entitling a person to legal representation at public expense.

(2) Any law made in pursuance of this section shall have effect only during a period of emergency:

Provided that the termination of a period of emergency shall not affect the operation of such a law during that period, the validity of any action taken thereunder during that period, any penalty or punishment incurred in respect of any contravention thereof (or of any instrument made thereunder) or failure to comply therewith (or with any such instrument) during that period or any proceeding or remedy in respect of any such penalty or punishment.

(3) In this section "period of emergency" means any period—

(a) when Kenya is at war; or

(b) when there is in force a proclamation (in this section referred to as a "proclamation of emergency") made by the Governor-General and published in the Kenya Gazette declaring that a state of emergency exists for the purposes of this section.

(4) Subject to the provisions of subsections (5) and (6) of this section, no proclamation of emergency shall be made except with the prior authority of a resolution of either House of the National Assembly supported by the votes of 65 per cent of all the members of that House, and every proclamation of emergency shall lapse at the expiration of seven days, commencing with the day on which it was made, unless it has in the meantime been approved by a resolution of the other House supported by the votes of 65 per cent of all the members of that House.

(5) A proclamation of emergency may be made without the prior authority of a resolution of a House of the National Assembly at a time when Parliament stands prorogued or when both Houses of the National Assembly stand adjourned, but every proclamation of emergency so made shall lapse at the expiration of seven days, commencing with the day on which it was made, unless it has in the meantime been approved by a resolution of each House of the National Assembly supported by the votes of 65 per cent of all the members of that House.

(6) A proclamation of emergency may be made without the prior authority of a resolution of a House of the National Assembly at any time when Parliament stands dissolved but any proclamation of emergency so made shall lapse at the expiration of seven days, commencing with the day on which it was made, unless it has in the meantime been approved by a resolution of the Senate supported by the votes of 65 per cent of all the Senators.

(7) A proclamation of emergency made with the prior authority of a resolution of a House of the National Assembly in accordance with subsection (4) of this section and subsequently approved by a resolution of the other House in accordance with that subsection and a proclamation of emergency approved by a resolution of each House in accordance with subsection (5) of this section may at any time be revoked by the Governor-General by notice published in the Kenya Gazette but shall otherwise remain in force so long as those resolutions remain in force and no longer.

Provided that any such resolution may be extended from time to time for a further period by a resolution supported by the votes of 65 per cent of all the members of the House concerned, each extension not exceeding two months from the date of the resolution effecting the extension; and any such resolution may be revoked at any time by a resolution supported by the votes of a majority of all the members of the House.

(9) A proclamation of emergency approved by a resolution of the Senate in accordance with subsection (6) of this section may at any time be revoked by the Governor-General by notice published in the Kenya Gazette but shall otherwise remain in force as long as that resolution remains in force and for so long thereafter as there are in force resolutions of each House of the National Assembly passed with the support of the votes of 65 per cent of all the members of that House while that resolution of the Senate is still in force and approving that resolution of the Senate.

(10) A resolution of the Senate passed in accordance with subsection (6) of this section shall remain in force for two months or such shorter period as may be specified therein:

Provided that—

(a) so long as Parliament stands dissolved any such resolution may be extended from time to time for a further period by a resolution of the Senate supported by the votes of 65 per cent of all the Senators, each extension not exceeding two months from the date of the resolution effecting the extension; and

(11) The Governor-General may summon the Senate to meet for the purposes of this section notwithstanding that Parliament then stands dissolved but, subject to the provisions of section 43 (5) of this Constitution (which relates to the election of a Speaker of the Senate), the Senate shall not, when so summoned, transact any business other than debating and voting upon resolutions for the purposes of this section.

70. (1) During any period during which there is in force a resolution of each House of the National Assembly supported by the votes of 65 per cent of all the members of that House declaring that the executive authority of a Region is being exercised in contravention of section 106 (2) of this Constitution, Parliament may make laws for that Region or any part thereof with respect to any matter specified in Part I of Schedule 1 of this Constitution to such extent as may appear to Parliament to be necessary for securing compliance with the provisions of the said section 106 (2).

(3) When any resolution passed for the purposes of this section ceases to be in force, any law made in pursuance of this section shall cease to have effect:

Provided that the termination of any such period shall not affect the operation of such a law during that period, the validity of any action taken thereunder during that period, any penalty or punishment incurred in respect of any contravention thereof (or of any instrument made thereunder) or failure to comply therewith (or with any such instrument) during that period or any proceeding or remedy in respect of any such penalty or punishment.

Provided that the same bill shall not be passed in accordance with the provisions of section 56 of this Constitution unless, before it has been introduced in the National Assembly, the proposals for altering this Constitution that are contained therein have, in accordance with the provisions of any law in that behalf, been submitted to a referendum in which all persons who are registered as voters in elections to the Senate or to the House of Representatives shall be entitled to vote and unless those proposals have been supported by two-thirds of all the votes validly cast at that referendum.

(4) A bill shall not be passed by either House of the National Assembly by virtue of the proviso to subsection (3) of this section unless, before the second reading of the bill in that House, the Speaker of that House has certified that the proposals for altering this Constitution that are contained therein are the proposals that were submitted to and were approved by a referendum in accordance with that proviso.

(8) If the question of removing the Chairman or the Deputy Chairman has been referred to a tribunal under this section, the Governor-General, acting in accordance with the advice of the Minister for the time being responsible for land settlement, may suspend the Chairman or, as the case may be, the Deputy Chairman from the exercise of the functions of his office and any such suspension may at any time be revoked by the Governor-General, acting in accordance with such advice as aforesaid, and shall in any case cease to have effect if the tribunal recommends to the Governor-General that the Chairman or, as the case may be, the Deputy Chairman should not be removed.

(9) If the office of Chairman is vacant or the Chairman is for any reason unable to exercise the functions of his office, then, until a person has been appointed to and has assumed the functions of that office or until the person holding that office has resumed those functions, as the case may be, they shall be exercised by the Deputy Chairman.

Provided that where the President of the Regional Assembly informs the Prime Minister that the land in question is occupied or is intended shortly to be occupied for the purposes of the Region, the Prime Minister shall not exercise his powers under this subsection except to the extent to which, in his opinion, he is strictly required so to do by the exigencies of the national interest.

(2) Where any estate, interest or right in or over land is acquired from a Region under the provisions of subsection (1) of this section, the Government of Kenya shall make prompt payment of full compensation therefor to that Region and the provisions of sections 19 (2) and 180 of this Constitution shall apply in relation to that payment of compensation and in relation to the adjudication of questions relating thereto as they apply in relation to those matters when property is compulsorily acquired from any person.

(3) Where the Prime Minister is satisfied that the use and occupation of any area of Trust land is required for any of the purposes specified in subsection (1) of this section, he may, after consultation with the President of the Regional Assembly of the Region in which the land is situated and with the county council in which the land is vested, give written notice to that county council that the land is required to be set apart for use and occupation for those purposes; the land shall then be set apart accordingly and, subject to the provisions of any law, there shall vest in the Governor-General on behalf of Her Majesty in right of the Government of Kenya or in such other person or authority referred to in the said subsection (1) as may from time to time be specified by written notice given by the Prime Minister to the county council such estates, interest or rights in or over that land or any part of it as may be so specified:

Provided that where the land in question or any part of it is already set apart under subsection (4) of this section or where the President of the Regional Assembly informs the Prime Minister that the land or any part of it is intended shortly to be set apart under that subsection, the Prime Minister shall not exercise his powers under this subsection except to the extent to which, in his opinion, he is strictly required so to do by the exigencies of the national interest.

(4) Where the President of the Regional Assembly of any Region is satisfied that the use and occupation of any area of Trust land is required for—

- (a) the purposes of the Region; or

- (c) the purpose of the extraction of common minerals,

he may, after consultation with the county council in which the land is vested, give written notice to that county council that the land is required to be set apart for use and occupation for those purposes; the land shall then be set apart accordingly and, subject to the provisions of any law, there shall vest in the Region or, as the case may be, in such body corporate referred to in paragraph (b) of this subsection or in such person or authority for the purpose referred to in paragraph (c) of this subsection as may from time to time be specified by written notice given by the President of the Regional Assembly to the county council such estates, interests or rights in or over that land or any part of it as may be so specified.

(5) Where land is required to be set apart under subsection (3) or subsection (4) of this section—

- (a) Parliament, in the case of a setting apart under subsection (3) of this section, or a law made by the Regional Assembly of the Region, in the case of a setting apart under subsection (4) of this section, may prescribe the manner in which and the conditions subject to which such setting apart shall be effected;
- (b) subsection (8) of section 208 of this Constitution shall apply in relation to such setting apart as it applies in relation to a setting apart in pursuance of subsection (7) of that section; and

(c) the Government of Kenya, in the case of a setting apart under subsection (3) of this section, or the Region, in the case of a setting apart under subsection (4) of this section, shall make prompt payment of full compensation for the setting apart to such persons as, under subsection (10) of the said section 208, are entitled to such compensation when land is set apart in pursuance of subsection (7) of that section.

(6) The provisions of subsections (3) and (4) of this section shall apply as well in relation to land that has already been set apart in pursuance of section 208 (7) of this Constitution as in relation to other land, and in such case a setting apart under this section shall extinguish any estate, interest or right in or over the land or any part thereof that may be vested in any person or authority in consequence of the setting apart in pursuance of the said section 208 (7) but the provisions of section 19 of this Constitution shall apply in relation to any such setting apart under this section as if it were a compulsory acquisition by the Government of Kenya under an Act of Parliament or, as the case may be, by the Region under a law made by the Regional Assembly of the estate, interest or right so extinguished.

(7) The provisions of subsection (3) of this section shall apply as well in relation to land that has already been set apart under subsection (4) thereof as in relation to other land, and in such case a setting apart under subsection (3) shall extinguish any estate, interest or right in or over the land or any part thereof that may be vested in the Region or any body corporate or any person or authority engaged in the extraction of minerals in consequence of a setting apart under subsection (4) but the provisions of section 19 of this Constitution (other than, in the case where the estate, interest or right is vested in the Region, paragraphs (a) and (b) of subsection (1) thereof) shall apply in relation to such setting apart under subsection (3) of this section as if it were a compulsory acquisition by the Government of Kenya under an Act of Parliament of the estate, interest or right.

(3) If, within six months from the receipt by the President of a Regional Assembly of an offer made in pursuance of subsection (1) of this section, he gives written notice to the Government of Kenya that the Region accepts the offer, the estate, interest or right concerned shall thereupon cease to be vested in the Governor-General and shall vest instead in the Region and the market value or such smaller sum as the parties may have agreed shall then become payable by the Region to the Government of Kenya, but if no such notice is given within the six months, the estate, interest or right shall, subject to the provisions of section 207 of this Constitution, remain vested in the Governor-General on behalf of Her Majesty in right of the Government of Kenya.

“agricultural land” means—

- (a) all land in a Region that is not within the area of jurisdiction of any municipality or township or of any trading centre or market established under any law; and
- (b) all land in the Nairobi Area that is declared by or under an Act of Parliament to be agricultural land for the purposes of this Part of this Chapter;

“the Region” means, in relation to a county council, a Divisional Board or any land, the Region in which that council or Board has jurisdiction or that land is situated.

(2) In this Part of this Chapter references to a county council shall, in relation to the areas of land specified in column 1 of Schedule 10 of this Constitution, be construed as if they were references to the local government authorities specified in column 2 of that Schedule.

(3) This Part of this Chapter shall not apply in relation to any estates, interests or rights in or over land that, by reason of any condition or covenant in the title thereto or by reason of any limitation imposed by any law, are subject to the restriction that the land may not be used for agriculture or to the condition that the land shall be used for a non-agricultural purpose.

Application of this part and establishment of divisions.

216. A county council may, by resolution, apply this Part of this Chapter to the area within its jurisdiction and shall then, subject to the provisions of any law made under section 221 (1) (a) of this Constitution, divide that area into such two or more divisions as appear to the county council to be necessary or expedient for the purposes of this Part.

Divisional Land Control Boards.

217. (1) There shall be for each division established under section 216 of this Constitution a Divisional Land Control Board (in this Part of this Chapter referred to as a “Divisional Board”) which, subject to the provisions of a law made under section 221 (1) (b) of this Constitution, shall have jurisdiction over the division for the purposes of this Part of this Chapter and which shall be constituted in such manner and shall exercise such functions as are hereinafter specified.

(2) Each Divisional Board shall consist of such number of members appointed, elected or otherwise selected in such manner as, subject to the provisions of any law in that behalf made by the Regional Assembly of the Region, may be prescribed by the county council.

(3) Any provision prescribing the number and mode of appointment, election or selection of members of a Divisional Board shall be such as will ensure the result that more than one-half of the members of the Board are able to represent the interests of owners or occupiers of agricultural land within the division:

Provided that the question whether any provision ensures that result shall not be inquired into in any court.

(4) A law made by the Regional Assembly of the Region may prescribe the qualifications and disqualifications for appointment, election or selection of persons as members of a Divisional Board and the tenure of office of any member.

(5) A law made by the Regional Assembly of the Region may, subject to the provisions of this Part of this Chapter, prescribe the procedure of a Divisional Board, and, subject thereto, the procedure of any Divisional Board shall be such as the Board itself may determine.

(6) Subject to its rules of procedure, a Divisional Board may act notwithstanding any vacancy in its membership or the absence of any member and its proceedings shall not be invalidated by the presence or participation of any person not entitled to be present at or to participate in those proceedings.

218. (1) No person shall be a party to any of the following transactions, that is to say—

- (a) the sale, lease, charge, mortgage, exchange, partition or any other disposal of or dealing with any estate, interest or right in or over agricultural land situated within an area to which this Part of this Chapter for the time being applies in pursuance of section 216 of this Constitution; or

- (b) if an application is made and refused, at the end of 30 days from such refusal or, where an appeal from such refusal has been instituted under section 220 of this Constitution, on the dismissal of the appeal.

(3) If any money or other valuable consideration has been paid in the course of any land transaction that is void under the provisions of this section or under any agreement that is or becomes void thereunder, that money or consideration shall be recoverable as a civil debt by the person who paid it from the person to whom it was paid.

(4) Nothing in this section shall apply to any succession to any estate, interest or right in or over land under the will or as a result of the intestacy of any person unless such succession involves a division of the land into a number of parcels held under separate titles.

(5) The provisions of this section shall be without prejudice to the powers vested by Part 1 of this Chapter in the Central Land Board or by Part 2 of this Chapter in the Government of Kenya, a Region or (in respect of Trust land) a county council.

Provided that in the case of a transaction in land situated within the areas to which section 198 of this Constitution applies a Divisional Board shall not refuse consent save on agricultural or economic grounds.

(2) In the exercise of its functions under subsection (1) of this section, a Divisional Board shall, when appropriate, have regard to the effect which the grant or refusal of consent may have on the economic development of the land concerned or on the raising or lowering of the standards of good husbandry within the division and shall also take into consideration such other matters as may be prescribed by any law made by the Regional Assembly of the Region.

ALTERATION OF REGIONAL BOUNDARIES

Agreement to alter Regional boundaries.

239. (1) Any two Regions that have a common boundary may, by agreement in writing between the Presidents of the respective Regional Assemblies, alter that boundary in accordance with the provisions of this section.

(2) No agreement to alter the boundary between two Regions shall have effect unless it is subsequently approved by a law made by the Regional Assembly of each of those Regions and, after both those laws have come into operation, by a resolution of each House of the National Assembly.

(3) A Bill for a law under subsection (2) of this section shall not be passed by a Regional Assembly unless at the final reading of that Bill in the Regional Assembly it was supported by the votes of two-thirds of all the members thereof.

(4) An agreement made in pursuance of subsection (1) of this section shall, subject to the provisions of this Chapter, take effect on the date on which it is approved under subsection (2) of this section by resolution of the second House of the National Assembly to give such approval or on such later date as may be specified by or under the agreement.

Effect on District boundaries of alteration of Regional boundaries.

240. (1) Any agreement made in pursuance of section 239 of this Constitution shall (except in the case where the part of a Region that is to be transferred to another Region by virtue of the agreement consists of the whole of one or more Districts) include provision for altering the boundaries of the Districts in the two Regions in such manner as may seem to the Presidents of the two Regional Assemblies to be expedient in consequence of the alteration of the boundary between the two Regions:

Provided that—

- (a) no District may be extinguished and no new District may be created as a result of any such alteration;
- (b) no alteration shall be made in the boundary of any District unless part of that District is to be transferred by virtue of the agreement or unless that District is contiguous to a District part of which is to be so transferred;
- (c) no part of a Region shall, as a result of any such alteration, not be included within a District; and
- (d) no District may form part of more than one Region.

(2) The alteration of the boundary of a District in pursuance of subsection (1) of this section shall not affect the seat of any Senator representing that District in the Senate at the date when the alteration otherwise takes effect under section 239 (4) of this Constitution, but if there is then no such Senator or if that Senator dies or otherwise vacates his seat before the expiration of his term of office, the alteration shall at once take effect for the purpose of elections to the Senate in that District.

(3) For the purposes of section 238 of this Constitution a Senator shall, notwithstanding any alteration of a Regional boundary, be regarded as representing a District within the Region within which the District which he represents was situated at the date when he was elected to the Senate.

241. (1) The alteration of the boundary between two Regions by virtue of an agreement made in pursuance of section 239 of this Constitution shall not affect the seat of any member of the House of Representatives.

Effect on House of Representatives of alteration of Regional boundaries.

(2) The Electoral Commission shall, as soon as an alteration of the boundary between two Regions has taken effect under section 239 (4) of this Constitution, review the number and boundaries of the constituencies forming part of the two Regions under section 49 of this Constitution and, in accordance with the provisions of the said section 49, make, by order, such alteration therein as it considers desirable in the light of the alteration of the Regional boundary and in the light of the review and, in particular, shall make such alteration therein as is necessary or expedient to secure that no constituency shall form part of more than one Region; but the order made by the Electoral Commission shall not take effect for the purpose of elections to the House of Representatives in the Regions concerned or for the purpose of elections of Specially Elected Members of that House until the next dissolution of Parliament after the making of the order.

242. (1) A law made by a Regional Assembly under section 239 (2) of this Constitution may, if it seems to the Regional Assembly to be necessary or expedient so to do in consequence of the alteration of the Regional boundary that is approved by that law, include provision for the alteration of the number or the boundaries of the constituencies into which the several Districts within the Region are divided, in accordance with section 93 (2) of this Constitution, for the purpose of electing Elected Members to the Regional Assembly:

Effect on Regional Assemblies of alteration of Regional boundaries.

Provided that that law shall include such provision as is necessary to give effect to paragraph (b) of the proviso to section 104 of this Constitution.

(2) Subject to the provisions of subsections (3), (4) and (5) of this section, any alteration of the number or boundaries of constituencies that is made in pursuance of subsection (1) of this section by any law shall not affect the seat of any member of the Regional Assembly and shall not, until the next dissolution of the Regional Assembly after the alteration of the Regional boundary that is approved by that law has taken effect under section 239 (5) of this Constitution, take effect for the purpose of elections to the Regional Assembly (including elections of Specially Elected Members thereof).

(3) Where the area transferred from one Region to another in consequence of the alteration of a Regional boundary consists of or includes the whole of one or more constituencies, the member of the Regional Assembly of the Region from which that area is transferred who represents any such constituency shall, at the date on which the alteration of the Regional boundary takes effect under section 239 (4) of this Constitution, cease to be a member of that Regional Assembly and shall instead become a member of the Regional Assembly of the other Region as if he had been elected as such under the provisions of this Constitution and notwithstanding that, under this Constitution or any other law relating to elections to that other Regional Assembly, he may not be qualified to be elected as such; and, until that other Regional Assembly next stands dissolved, he shall not vacate his seat therein unless any circumstances arise that, if he had remained a member of the former Regional Assembly, would have caused him to vacate his seat as such.

(4) Where the area transferred from one Region to another in consequence of the alteration of a Regional boundary consists of part only of one or more constituencies or includes, in addition to the whole of one or more constituencies, part only of one or more constituencies, that area or, as the case may be, the part of that area that consists of part only of one or more constituencies shall, as soon as is practicable after the alteration in the Regional boundary has taken effect under section 239 (4) of this Constitution, be established by a law made by the Regional Assembly of the Region to which it is transferred as a new constituency for the election of an Elected Member to that Regional Assembly under subsection (5) of this section:!

Provided that, where that area or the said part thereof, consists of two or more separate areas not having a common boundary, the law made by the Regional Assembly may establish any one of those areas as a separate constituency.

(5) As soon as is practicable after any new constituency has been established under subsection (4) of this section, elections shall be held in accordance with the provisions of Part 2 of Chapter VI of this Constitution for the election of an Elected Member to the Regional Assembly in that constituency.

(6) The provisions of subsections (2), (3), (4) and (5) of this section shall, until the next dissolution of the Regional Assembly after the alteration of the Regional boundary has taken effect under section 239 (4) of this Constitution, have effect notwithstanding the provisions of sections 93 (1) and 93 (2) and the proviso to section 104 of this Constitution.

Effect on local government within Region of alteration of Regional boundaries.

243. (1) A law made by a Regional Assembly in pursuance of section 239 (2) of this Constitution shall (except where the area to be transferred from one Region to another in consequence of the alteration of the Regional boundary that is approved by that law consists of the whole of one or more counties or municipalities) include such provision as seems to the Regional Assembly to be necessary or expedient by reason of the alteration of the Regional boundary for bringing the local government of the Region into conformity with the provisions of Chapter XIII of this Constitution.

(2) Any alteration in the boundaries of the area of jurisdiction of local government authorities that is made in pursuance of subsection (1) of this section by any law shall take effect on the date on which the alteration of the Regional boundary that is approved by that law takes effect under section 239 (4) of this Constitution or on such later date (not being later than one year thereafter) as may be specified by or under the law.

(3) If any period intervenes between the date on which the alteration of the Regional boundary takes effect under section 239 (4) of this Constitution and the date on which any alteration in the boundaries of the area of jurisdiction of local government authorities takes effect under this section, a law made by a Regional Assembly may make provision for the local government during that period of any area that is to be or has been transferred to it in pursuance of the alteration of the Regional boundary.

(4) Where, as a result of the alteration of the boundary between two Regions by virtue of an agreement made in pursuance of section 239 of this Constitution, an area that was the area of jurisdiction of any local government authority before the alteration falls thereafter partly in the one Region and partly in the other, then, if the Presidents of the two Regional Assemblies have failed, within three months of the date on which the alteration of the Regional boundary takes effect under section 239 (4) of this Constitution, either to agree upon the apportionment of the assets and liabilities of that local government authority between its successor authorities in the two Regions or to agree upon some other method of determining that apportionment, it shall be determined as may be directed by the Minister for the time being responsible for local government.

(5) The provisions of subsection (1) of this section shall have effect notwithstanding the provisions of section 236 of this Constitution and the provisions of subsections (3) and (4) of this section shall have effect notwithstanding any of the provisions of Chapter XIII of this Constitution.

Provided that nothing in this paragraph shall be construed as precluding Parliament from making laws with respect to the provision of such services by the Government of Kenya or as affecting the exclusive executive authority of the Government of Kenya with respect to the implementation of such laws.

2. Agricultural Commodity Boards

(1) Where, for the purpose of restricting the production of any agricultural commodity in Kenya, provision is made by or under an Act of Parliament for the determination of a national maximum in relation to that commodity (whether in terms of the amount of that commodity that is actually produced or in terms of the area of land given over to its production or in terms of the amount of that commodity for which a minimum price or a fixed price is guaranteed or in terms of the size or capacity of the plant used in processing that commodity or in any other way whatever), the function of dividing that maximum by allocating quotas to producers shall be performed by a Commodity Board established for that commodity in accordance with the provisions of this paragraph.

(2) Each Board established for the purposes of this paragraph shall be composed in such manner as may for the time being be prescribed by or under an Act of Parliament:

Provided that—

- (a) the prescribed composition of each Board shall make provision for at least one member (hereinafter called a "Regional representative") representing each Region in which the commodity concerned is produced;
